Zion's Future is in Our Hands (Part Two)

My home church was originally a Swedish Lutheran Church, Christ Church Old Swedes, which sat along the Schuylkill River in Swedesburg Pennsylvania, a suburb of Philadelphia. By the time I started attending, the church had become affiliated with the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania. It was one of three Swedish Lutheran churches that were absorbed by the diocese in the 19th century. "Old Swedes" was founded in 1629 (the current building was erected in 1760) and had a rich historical tradition. A plaque located on the walkway from the church to the parish house commemorated a visit to the congregation by George Washington and his staff as they marched to Valley Forge in 1777. The church's cemetery contains grave sites of our country's veterans of every conflict from the revolutionary war to Vietnam. The church was small but solidly built and has stained glass windows on both sides of the nave. The pulpit side windows commemorated the life of Christ. The lectern side windows celebrated the birth of our nation. The church also had a large parking lot, a rarity in those days. During the 1950's and 60's while I was attending, the church was thriving. We had a large choir and a junior choir, an active Sunday school and a dedicated "ladies" group. The "Old Swedes" ladies group was famous for their chicken salad and their June luncheon and chicken salad sale was attended by folks from miles around. But by the 1970's, the church membership was in decline. The neighborhood began to change and did not supply the congregation with new membership. Those who still were members of "Old Swedes" moved farther and farther away. As the older members began to pass on, there were fewer and fewer younger ones to fill the pews. The church was well endowed and this allowed the congregation to exist long after it was a viable center for worship. The Diocese nearly closed the church in the late 1990's. It has seen somewhat of a revival in recent years. Its cemetery has historical significance to the region and the congregation has gained some membership. Its Lucia Festival is a well-known tradition within the community and is well attended. I am happy to know that the congregation has found new life but it will never again be the same as I remembered it. Having a rich history does not in itself guarantee a bright and promising future. Churches and congregations, like people need to adapt to their changing environment to stay relevant.

Zion also has a rich history. Zion has been a fixture in Indiana for over 200 years occupying the same location as it did in the 1800's. Zion was one of the larger congregations in the Northwest Pennsylvania Synod, providing both talented worship leadership and strong financial support. Several past members of our congregation have become pastors within the ELCA demonstrating the congregation's strong support for the church and its ministry at large.

But Zion is no longer the Zion of decades past. Our recent membership outreach concluded that we are not the 527 member congregation we have been reporting to the Synod. In fact, our congregation really only totals 219 members.

Sadly, our situation is not unique. A recent study found that over 50% of the US population consider themselves unaffiliated with an organized church. There are larger societal issues at work here, but you get the picture. If we try to hang on to what we once were, I am sure we will suffer the same fate as my "Old Swedes".

However, I believe we can alter the narrative and keep Zion viable and robust for the future generations that will follow us. It will take honest and constructive strategic planning. This planning will at times involve painful self-reflection on who we really are now and a strong motivation to implement meaningful change to make us who we need to become for the future.

We can and will find ways to use the valuable assets we have to secure a new future for ourselves.

I sure don't have the answers but I suspect that they are out there, waiting for us to embrace them.

As a first step, our Administration and Finance committee will begin, at its March meeting, to lay the groundwork for this process. We have identified three core issues to discuss.

- A plan for providing the financial resources to support the future growth and health of the congregation.

- A plan for expanding Zion's ministry both in its worship and congregational ministry and its community outreach.

- A plan for sustaining Zion's property and assets so that it can comfortably support the congregation and its ministry objectives safely and efficiently.

In the coming months we will communicate with you on our progress as we work through these difficult topics. We encourage you give thought to Zion and its future and we ask that you communicate your vision to the committee. We are all in this together and we can and will find a way to ensure Zion's future together.

ADMINISTRATION AND FINANCE COMMITTEE MINUTES

February 9, 2022

Attendance: K. Huston, B. Mehus, S. Dickson, G. Sechrist, Pr. Tedd, R. Wissinger, Don Seagren, K. Balcerak, P. Bowersox

Call to Order 5:59pm

January Minutes- Motion to approve D. Seagren, 2nd K. Balcerak

Financial Report- Nothing unexpected on the expense side. Elevator expense was a little bit higher than expected. Office Supplies & Postage were a little high. Overall expenses were around the expected amount.

January Financials R. Wissinger motion to accept financial report 2nd K. Balcerak.

2022 Initiatives

Managing 2022 pledges (Stewardship)- Thank you letters were sent to members who pledged and were notified of the amount that they pledged for the year if they pledged a bi-weekly or monthly amount. A quarterly letter will be sent out to members as well.

Membership Outreach (Worship and Music)

i. Home communion- Moving forward with making a list of members who would like home communion. A copy of the list will be kept of how frequently the members have been visited. The goal is to visit people once per month.

ii. On-Line Church- Dobil Communications Company came in for an estimate which was initially $14000-18000; after revising the wish list, an estimate of $5000 was given.

c. Strategic Planning (Administration and Finance)

i. Appointment committee (and Chairperson) to review goals Plan on a committee to look long term (30 years) to ensure that the church survives. What are members looking for out of the church? Ask for input from members who attend services. With a membership number above 200, only 30 people attend regularly. Why are people staying away? A recommendation was made to include a survey in the newsletter for people to respond anonymously. R. Wissinger has a copy of a survey that was sent out a few years ago. It will be revisited at the next Ad Fin meeting. How sustainable is the congregation as it is? -Pr. Tedd. How do we sustain the congregation for generations to come. Maybe send a follow up letter to people who no longer attend. What are the reasons why people no longer come?-P. Bowersox.

ii. Prepare proposal for membership approval

d. Procedure handbook (Staff Support) Pretty much wrapped up.

i. Prepare for Jerry's replacement There were a few suggestions that Jerry made for a replacement which haven't panned out. Maybe have a cleaning service come in part time? Snow removal is an issue; also we need more of a handyman and a presence in the building who has knowledge of it when contractors come in for repairs. Also provides security. Having a presence here and knowing the building. Maybe put a blurb in the paper. Repeat it in the newsletter to find someone in the congregation.

IV. Old Business- None

V. New Business- P. Bowersox. Videos- Youtube. He suggested having viewers put name in the comments so you know who is viewing the videos. People can watch Youtube without being a subscriber; can also ask people to subscribe. Through Facebook it isn't possible to see who the viewers are.

Don Seagren Motion to adjourn, 2nd K. Balcerak.

Submitted Brian Mehus 2/11/22.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE MINUTES

February 15, 2022

Members Present: Jerry Ruffner, Kevin Huston, Dave Keith, Don Seagren

Committee issues discussed:

Completed Projects

1. 1/25/2022 – Environmental Pest Control performed their monthly service
2. 2/9/2022 – Eastern Elevator performed their quarterly maintenance on the elevator
3. 2/15/2022 – The committee addressed a light at the Sixth Street entrance that is out. Jerry will replace the bulb or have the light repaired.

On Going Projects:

1. TMR has been contracted to perform repairs on the nave and adjoining building roof. This work will be completed as weather permits.
2. The committee received a bid from Willet Hauser on the repair and restoration of Zion's 118 stained glass windows. The bid was in excess of $800,000. The committee has contacted the vendor for further discussion on options that would be more acceptable to our current financial situation.
3. DOBIL provided a bid for upgrading Zion's On-Line church service offering. The bid was $18,000 and deemed to be too costly given our current finances. A revised bid has been sought and appears to be more in line with our funding sources. Action should be forthcoming on this in March.

Other 2022 Projects

1. The committee will be seeking bids for renovation work for the kitchen in the spring of 2022.
2. The ceiling tiles in the narthex will be replaced once the water leak is deemed to be permanently repaired.
3. The committee is considering painting the outside door of the Pastor's office.
4. The committee is researching for a vendor to address our ongoing bat infestation problem.
5. The committee will be asking for bids to replace the roof on the nave. (This follows a recommendation from TMR that this may need to be addressed within the next two years.)

Available Funds for Projects

Capital Improvement Account Balance: $ 20,655.36

ZARP Account Balance: $ 11,326.86

$ 10,000 earmarked for Parish house site reclamation
